

TWENTY DIE WHEN FREIGHT PLOWS INTO EXPRESS TRAIN ON PENNSY AT MOUNT UNION

Chester Minds, Penn Football Star, and Family, Among Those Killed.

THE ENGINEER IS BLAMED

Officials Say Engineer on Freight Train Should Have Walked Ahead to See Signal if Fog Obstructed Its Throat. Killed Were in Pullman.

By Associated Press.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 27.—At least 20 persons were killed when the east-bound Mercantile Express on the Pennsylvania was run into shortly after midnight by a fast freight train at the station at Mount Union, 43 miles east of here. Several others were injured.

THE DEAD.

CHESTER A. MINDS, 25 years old, and wife, aged 23, Hanes, Pa. CHESTER A. MINDS, Jr., their infant son, two weeks old. MISS MAUDE MINDS, Conifer, N. Y., sister of Mr. Minds. MR. A. GABRISCH, Conifer, N. Y., a brother-in-law of Mr. Minds. MRS. A. S. DELLING, Cleveland, O., Mrs. Minds' sister. RICHARD OWEN, 21; Dorothy Owen, 17; Jean Owen, 15; nephew and niece of Mr. Minds. CHARLES LEVINE, New York. F. H. HOLLAND, New York. MILTON HYNES, New York. M. BRIGHT, colored porter. H. A. ROSENER, Brantville, Wis. L. M. MONTGOMERY, salesman, Bloomington, Ill. P. R. FANNING, Brantville, N. Y.

The express train had stopped to discharge passengers at Mount Union and members of the crew were testing the brakes when without warning the heavy freight crashed into the passenger train from the rear. A dense fog prevailed.

As the freight engine backed by a heavy train plowed into the passenger train the rear coach of the latter telescoped the second passenger coach which was split asunder by the terrific impact. The freight engine was literally welded to the passenger car. None of the passenger coaches left the track but six of the freight cars went down a 40-foot embankment.

All of those killed were in the car Belmont which was telescoped and crushed to pieces.

An official of the Pennsylvania railroad here said the list of dead may exceed 20 as 14 bodies have been recovered and at least six more are known to be dead in the wreck. At this time the railroad company is inclined to place the blame for the wreck on the engineer of the freight, A. T. Cook of Harrisburg, who had a log crushed. It was his duty, said an official, to get off his engine, walk ahead and look at a signal in case of fog rather than run past it.

Chester A. Minds, who with his family, was killed, was a coal operator in the Clearfield region of Pennsylvania. He was traveling to Union, N. Y., to attend the funeral of his wife's father. He was a football star on the University of Pennsylvania team.

At noon today Pennsylvania railroad officials said the list of killed stood at 20, of whom 17 have been identified.

BOOST FREIGHT RATES

Interstate Commerce Commission Approves Higher Freight Rates.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Increased freight rates on iron and steel from Chicago, Pittsburgh and other points in the East to Pacific Coast terminals for export were authorized today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The increases authorized are from 30 cents, the present rate, to 40 cents from Chicago and from 42 to 46 from Pittsburgh. The rates will be effective April 2 and apply to shipments destined for Japan, Chicago and Manila.

With the authorization of these increases the rates on iron and steel from producing points to the Orient by way of Pacific ports will be approximately 12 cents higher per 100 pounds than the rates by way of New York.

ENGINEER KILLED.

Freight Train Crashes Into Cars Near White Sulphur, W. Va.

HUNTINGDON, Feb. 27.—J. V. Quisenberry, engineer, of Hinton, W. Va., was killed early today when an eastbound Chesapeake & Ohio freight train crashed into several cars derailed from a westbound freight near White Sulphur, W. Va.

Engineer Quisenberry is survived by a wife and eight children.

Franklin Flooded.

FRANKLIN, Feb. 27.—The lower part of Franklin was flooded today when the ice gorge in the Allegheny river today piled up to a height of 20 feet forming a dam.

GOVERNOR KILLS PROBE MEASURE

Little Possibility of Investigation Measure Being Passed Over His Head.

Special to The Courier.
HARRISBURG, Feb. 27.—Governor Brumbaugh's message vetoing the Sprout investigation resolution was read to the Senate last night.

In announcing his disapproval of the bill, the governor says it was "not in the sense a measure in the interest of the people" that it "had no constructive purpose or aim," and that it was "solely a factional measure to give an interested faction a powerful political club to compel its opponents and, indeed, all independent citizens, to bow a subservient knee or suffer the consequences."

Such a power as the Sprout-Sprout proposal would have conferred upon a factional leader, the governor adds, "should never be given anyone. It was never intended to be, and cannot lawfully be, exercised by any legislative committee in a constitutional government."

He points out that there is no recognition of the rights under law of the parties selected for investigation and they are without appeal from the rulings, decisions and procedure of the proposed inquirers. More than that, he says, the resolution condones perjury.

Anyhow, says the governor, "the entire field of fact and the entire truth relative to the administration of the state's business can be known at any time by anybody," and therefore there was no occasion for the resolution. He adds that any information the Legislature may request on any matter relating to the state government will be freely and immediately furnished.

That the probe bill could not be passed over the governor's veto is conceded.

ORDERS DISTRIBUTION

Estate of Mary E. Burton Downs Awarded $5,000.

In the estate of Jonathan H. Burton, who died in Dunbar township June 7, 1914, Judge J. C. Work yesterday directed the payment of $5,000 to the estate of Mary E. Burton Downs.

When Mr. Burton died he left a widow, Mary E. Burton, and a daughter, Mrs. Burton, who was married to J. A. Downs and died last June 18, leaving a will by which she appointed her husband the executor. Mr. Downs claimed $5,000 as a part of her estate, when settlement of the estate of Jonathan H. Burton came up. Mrs. Downs having died without instituting the procedure which would give her $5,000 in addition to the widow's exemption and one-half the estate.

Judge Work held that the remarriage and death of Mrs. Burton without claiming or having set apart to her the $5,000 did not divest her of the amount which vested in her at the time of her husband's death. The court directed that $5,000 be paid to J. A. Downs and $138.07 to Florence Burton, only niece of the late Jonathan H. Burton, the estate having shown a balance of $5,138.07 for distribution.

UNKNOWN NEGRO KILLED.

Man Run Down By Train On B. & O. At Layton.

An unknown colored man, about 50 years old, was killed last night near Layton by a Baltimore & Ohio train No. 8. The body was later discovered by the crew of a freight train. It was brought to Connellsville and removed to Federal Director J. E. Sims' establishment and prepared for burial.

There were no means of identification on his person.

McGinnis Gets Prize.

C. L. McGinnis, of Poplar Grove, won a prize of $2 for guessing nearest the correct number of white mice on display at the recent poultry show in Uniontown.

Resigns as Hotel Clerk.

Rockwell Stillwagon has resigned as clerk at the Smith house. He is succeeded by Edgar J. Powell. Mr. Stillwagon will go into the coal business.

MINE EXAM DATES.

Begin on April 10; Places Are Not Announced.

Announcement has been made that the examinations for mine foreman, assistant mine foreman, and five boss, in the several districts, will be conducted on April 10, 11, 12 and 13. The places for the examinations have not yet been made public.

The board of six men who prepare the questions for the examinations met last Friday in Pittsburgh and made final arrangements.

KNIFED FLAG

Outcrop Man Slashes U. S. Emblem While Drunk.

Special to The Courier.
UNIONTOWN, Feb. 27.—Testimony was introduced at a hearing in court today before Judge E. H. Reppert that Mike Dutcheck of Outcrop, drew a knife on the American flag and threatened to kill Chief of Police James Daugherty of Fairchance. He said that he knew nothing about the trouble when questioned by Judge Reppert on a surety of the peace charge. "I was too drunk," he said.

"What did you go to Fairchance for?" Judge Reppert asked him.

"To get a pair of shoes."

"Why didn't you get them in Outcrop?"

"They are cheaper in Fairchance."

"How much cheaper?" the judge further queried.

"Working shoes in Outcrop cost $3.50 and in Fairchance you can get them for $2.35," replied the accused man.

Judge Reppert expressed his opinion that it would have been cheaper for Dutcheck to have purchased his shoes in Outcrop and decided that he pay the costs and furnish $100 bond to keep the peace.

STRIKE ENDS

Florence Miners Fail to Get Increase But Return to Work.

The strike at the Florence mines near Dawson has been settled, according to advice given out at the offices of the company. The miners returned to work this morning.

The workmen who struck for an increase of 15 per cent in wages, were not granted their demands.

Yesterday afternoon, it is said, the men decided to conclude the walkout and return to work in the morning.

"They must have just gotten tired of striking," one official said today.

Everything was quiet about the mines yesterday, it was stated, and today all has settled down to regular routine again. The 16 deputies sworn in at Uniontown to protect the property were still on hand this morning.

HOUSE TO ADJOURN

Legislators Will Quit Wednesday Evening March 1st.

By Associated Press.
HARRISBURG, Feb. 27.—Mayor of Philadelphia today introduced in the House bills providing for the investigation into the manner in which the civil service laws are being operated in that city and also inquiring into the political activity of office holders.

Another bill providing for abolition of capital punishment was introduced. The general deficiency bill was passed finally in the Senate.

The House adopted a motion to adjourn Wednesday until March 12. The Senate has passed a resolution adjourning Wednesday until a later date.

Fire at Clearfield.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Feb. 27.—Fire early today destroyed the opera house block here, causing a loss estimated at $125,000.

Refuses Divorce.

UNIONTOWN, Feb. 27.—Judge Van Swearingen refused to grant a divorce to Mrs. Annie Breznick of Gates, from Steve Breznick of Uniontown.

CHILDREN UNDER 16 MUST BE OFF STREETS BY 9 P. M. WHEN CITY CURFEW MEASURE PASSES

A curfew ordinance, drawn up by Assistant City Solicitor F. E. Younk, was read in council last night by Councilman John Duggan, but it was not introduced. Mr. Duggan indicated that some changes would be necessary before it was presented to council.

The ordinance would apply to all children under 16 years of age, who would not be permitted to appear in any street, public place, or, in fact, anywhere but at home, after 9 P. M. during the months from October to March, both inclusive, or after 9 P. M. during the other months of the year. Fifteen minutes before the time specified for the children to retire to their homes, a bell would be rung. Any child violating the ordinance would be warned, on the first offense, and if found on the streets after that, would be taken home by an officer of the law, and then fined not more than $5 or imprisoned not more than 24 hours. A parent allowing a child to act contrary to the provisions of the ordinance would be found guilty of a misdemeanor and fined from $1 to $5 or imprisoned from six to 24 hours. These regulations would not apply to any child accompanied by a parent or guardian, or to one who bore a note saying that he had been sent on some errand.

Mr. Duggan objected to the section which provides punishment for a parent letting his child "run loose." The provision allowing both the aldermen and the mayor to inflict fines was not acceptable to him either. He felt that only the mayor should be given this power. The councilmen will suggest changes to Mr. Younk and will discuss the matter further before introducing the ordinance.

PROPERTY OWNERS OWE CITY $88,000 FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Only $10,000 of $98,000 Spent Has Been Collected as Yet.

SMALL WORKING BASIS

Balance of Money Realized From Bond Issues Is Small; Tax Rate Is Discussed and 10 Mill Levy Is Practically Decided Upon; To Fix Pump.

Funds available to the city for improvement work are practically exhausted, according to a statement to council by Superintendent of Streets John Duggan last night. In all the city has spent to date $98,000 for street paving and sewerage. Of this $10,000 has been paid back by property owners against which assessments were made. This leaves $88,000 or more still to be collected.

According to City Clerk A. C. Bixler's figures, bond issues for improvement work have totaled $106,000. With $88,000 of this outstanding, the city has but a small working basis. Collections must be made before the city can go ahead with much new work.

Originally, out of its $100,000 bond issue in 1914, the city had $56,000 available for new street work. Short term, five year bonds, issued to cover the expense of additional work have increased the bonded indebtedness to $106,000, according to the city clerk's figures.

The subject was brought up after Mr. Duggan had mentioned the need for the construction of a viaduct up Newwayer avenue from Pittsburgh street and across Race street. This should be built, he said, before the paving of Race street is begun. In regard to the Arch street sewer and paving, Mr. Duggan felt it advisable to await better weather before taking up that work.

"I am told that Arch street is impassable," Mayor R. Marietta remarked.

"Well, it's the same as usual," was Mr. Duggan's reply. "It never was really passable."

Discussion of the tax levy revived the subject of the condition of the treasury. A levy of 10 mills was practically decided upon.

"We need more," Mr. Duggan said, "but we'll have to go slow, and let the people catch their breath." No definite action was taken.

A letter from the W. C. T. U. was read, asking that council repair the pump on the West Side, which has been out of commission for some time. "The W. C. T. U. erected the pump at some expense," the letter read, "with the understanding that council would keep it in order. We feel that all that is necessary is to call council's attention to its present condition."

Mayor Marietta would have referred the matter to Mr. Duggan, but the latter objected, saying that, as a public property, it came under Councilman J. H. Guyan's department.

"Let Jim Guyan get his old pump fixed up," he said. "We'll need that pump, because prohibition is coming."

City Treasurer E. B. Floto appeared before council with a list of tax exonerations. The council decided to meet as a committee of the whole on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock to consider this list. At that time, the matter of the tax levy and that of the curfew ordinance will be taken up again.

All the councilmen were present at last night's meeting, Mr. Guyan being a little tardy. The session was a short one, being of less than half an hour's duration.

LEAVES FOR SOUTH

Rev. J. L. Prouditt to Spend a Month in Florida.

Rev. J. L. Prouditt, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who left this morning for St. Petersburg, Fla., on boarding Baltimore & Ohio train No. 6 had an agreeable surprise when he met Rev. Sloane of Pittsburgh, a member of the Clinton Presbyterian, of which Rev. Prouditt was also a member before coming to Connellsville, on the train.

Rev. Sloane is pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh and as he is enroute to Florida, the two pastors will make the greater part of the journey together. Rev. Prouditt expects to remain in the South for at least a month and if he has not regained his health at the expiration of that time he will remain longer. Rev. Prouditt was sent south by the members of his congregation.

Weather Forecast

Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, somewhat colder tonight, is the noon weather forecast for Western Pennsylvania.

Temperature Record.

1917 1916

Maximum 70 42

Minimum 33 20

Mean 54 31

The Yough river rose from 4.20 to 4.40 feet during the night.

HIGH PRICES MEAN LOTS OF GARDENS

Bulky Weather Brings Thoughts of Growing One's Own Vegetables and Garden Truck.

With the price of foods still soaring, it is likely that more back yard gardens will be seen during 1917 than ever before. It is a certainty that once the vegetables are planted, no weeds will be allowed to choke them. With the bulky weather and high prices, thoughts are already turning to garden cultivation as a means to save the high cost of living. In several instances the ground has been turned over, and manure laid on it.

Hotel owners will likely be among the foremost in setting out early garden truck, such as lettuce, radishes and green onions. These are always in demand.

Persons who own vacant lots are thinking seriously of having a farmer go over them with a plow and later with a harrow to get them in condition to be planted as soon as the weather becomes warm enough.

Government seeds will be in great demand. Each year the government sends out thousands of packages, including vegetables that will grow without expert care. These are sent to distributing stations and can be secured for the asking. The seeds usually bring good crops.

Something else that will probably receive more attention this summer than before is the potato bug. This industrious fellow destroys thousands of potatoes yearly and potato growers will see to it that a plentiful supply of boys with the cans and sticks to knock them off is on hand.

MAN IS BURNED

Gas Explosion Given as Cause of Blaze at Lazelle Home.

A gas explosion in the home of John Lazelle at Prospect and Main streets early last evening caused a fire, which resulted in some damage to one room of the house. Mr. Lazelle was slightly burned, his hair being singed and his arm scorched. The curtains and blinds on the windows were burned and other damage done to the room.

Mr. Lazelle, it is said, was reading in an upstairs bedroom, and, after lighting the gas stove, put a match to the gas jet, when it became too dark for him to see. An explosion followed and the room was filled with flame. The fire department was called and soon extinguished the blaze. The house is the property of Fred Frisbie.

NAB ROBBERY SUSPECT

Use of Stolen Mileage Book Brings About Arrest.

Use of a Baltimore & Ohio mileage book led to the arrest of a man by the name of Wetzel, on suspicion of having been connected with a number of recent robberies at Meyersdale and Rockwood, yesterday afternoon, on a Baltimore & Ohio train, by detectives of the railroad, who had been in search of the guilty parties since the robberies occurred.

Wetzel was about to use mileage stolen at Rockwood, when he was placed under arrest and is being held in Pittsburgh. Wetzel will be taken to Somerset to stand trial. Several checks which were also found on his person, also indicated that Wetzel is guilty of the robberies.

HAY $16 A TON.

Farmers Get $3 Less For It Than They Did a Year Ago.

Reports from the Plains-Perry district are to the effect that farmers are hauling hay to market at $16 a ton, $3 less than they were getting for it a year ago.

Not long ago potatoes could be bought for 50 cents a bushel, and apples for the same price or less. Now potatoes are selling at 80 cents a peck and apples $2 a bushel, but it's the farmer who is the buyer.

MIHROM Still Living.

Earl Mihrom, the Mount Pleasant man who took his life in a suicide on Sunday night at his boarding house in South Connellsville, was still living today. The Mount Pleasant hospital authorities said that there was no change in his condition. It is thought that he cannot recover. The poison worked very slowly.

Poor Board Case Up.

UNIONTOWN, Feb. 27.—Before Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen were presented the arguments of counsel in the action of Director of the Poor George M. Strickler of Vanderbilt, for a re-nomination of the petition for writ of mandamus upon Controller Harry Kinsinger to compel him to pay the directors of the poor $1,500 per year instead of $1,000 per year.

Submarine Splinter Enters

GIRL'S FINGER AND EMERGES AGAIN FROM HER OTHER ARM

Startling news of a "submarine in Scotland" was brought to Connellsville this morning by James Wardlaw, who related a story of the very strange behavior of a splinter which entered his daughter's finger some time ago, and has just now reappeared.

Mr. Wardlaw's daughter, Miss Margaret Wardlaw, in some manner allowed a splinter to enter the middle finger of her right hand. It disappeared for a time and when it came to light again it broke through the skin on the webby part of the other arm.

Mr. Wardlaw insists that the splinter entered the finger of the girl's right hand and after journeying up that arm and across her shoulder finally traversed most of the distance down her left arm. It was the same splinter, Mr. Wardlaw says, and everybody knows he is a truthful man.

Mr. Wardlaw cannot quite understand the occurrence, but lays it up to the general interest in submarines prevalent at this time.

"What do you suppose that submarine was hunting for?" he was asked. "Oh, I guess it was after the Germans," Mr. Wardlaw replied.

In Wilson's Escort.

James I. F. Byers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Byers of Uniontown, is one of the famous Black Horse troop of Culver Military Academy, whose members, 90 strong, will form an escort for President Wilson at the inauguration ceremonies.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad paid the employees of the Connellsville division today.

AMERICAN MOTHER AND HER DAUGHTER DIE FROM EXPOSURE WHEN THE LACONIA GOES DOWN

CONGRESS WOULD LIMIT PRESIDENT'S BROAD AUTHORITY

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—While details of the death of 10 Americans in the unwarmed destruction of the Laconia began coming in today the opposition in Congress to giving President Wilson the broad authority to deal with the submarine menace began taking definite form and showed considerable strength.

At the White House it was made known authoritatively that the destruction of the Laconia was a clear and ruthless violation of American rights and life, a demonstration of what might be expected in the future of sufficient force to hurry Congress into clothing the President with full authority to meet the peril.

Nevertheless the House foreign affairs committee, after debating the flood bill which has the backing of the President, decided that the broad powers to be conferred by the use of the phrase "other instrumentality" should be modified and that the President should be limited to using the "naval forces of the United States, including the naval militia." In the Senate foreign relations committee, Republicans voted solidly against giving the President blanket authority and it is reported that they drew support from three Democratic Senators, Hitchcock and O'Gorman. No formal action was taken in either committee and while the house committee was in adjournment until 4 o'clock this afternoon, Chairman Flood took to the White House proposed amendments, including one to prohibit arming of ships carrying munitions or contraband, and the other to limit the President's authority.

Administration officials considered the attitude of Congress in the face of the Laconia case of sufficient importance to discuss sending an official report on the killing of the Americans to Congress in some official way.

PINE ISLAND LUCKY

Jerry Blackburn Reports Some Florida Fruit Escaped Frost.

Jerry Blackburn returned to Connellsville yesterday after a five months' sojourn on Pine Island on the west coast of Florida, where he had been engaged upon the plantation of F. T. Adams during the late fall and winter months.

During the recent freeze which devastated much of the Florida fruit and vegetable belt Pine Island, with its milder temperature than the mainland, escaped injury. Maturing crops of all kinds on the mainland were completely destroyed by heavy frost. The loss to growers is estimated at millions of dollars, and is not confined to the season's crop but includes permanent damage to young orange and other fruit trees.

LEAVES WEST PENN.

H. E. Burns, Purchasing Agent, Resigns March 1.

H. E. Burns, purchasing agent for the West Penn Railways Company for the past four years, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, has tendered his resignation to take effect March 1. Prior to going to Pittsburgh Mr. Burns was general store manager for the company in Connellsville.

Mr. Burns will be succeeded by Walter T. McCormick of Waynesburg, at one time manager of the Tri-State Telephone Company in Connellsville.

LAACONIA SINKING IS REGARDED AS "OVERT ACT"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Official dispatches confirming reports of the deaths of Americans on the Laconia, torpedoed without warning, established the case as an "overt act." The situation was unchanged from where the President left it yesterday when he asked Congress for authority to deal with the submarine peril.

President Wilson and State Department officials took the position that no further steps would be taken until Congress has had an opportunity to act on the request.

The view reveals that the sinking of the Laconia should hasten action by Congress. The first step of the government, it is indicated, will be to furnish American ships with gunners for defensive purposes and insure them in the government war risk bureau.

On the basis of the official report, the sinking of the Laconia is regarded as another Lusitania case in principle even though fewer lives were lost.

President Wilson, it was said today, is opposed to calling an extra session of Congress unless it is absolutely necessary.

Word has been conveyed to him that the Republicans may filibuster in an effort to force an extra session but he is hopeful that this intention will not be carried out.

IVATTS, LACONIA VICTIM.

SAID TO BE U. S. CITIZEN

RACINE, Wis., Feb. 27.—Representative of a local manufacturing establishment for whom Frederick V. Ivatts, a victim of the Laconia disaster, acted as foreign representative, asserted today that Ivatts, although born in England, was a citizen of the United States.

BRITISH TRANSPORT SUNK; GERMANS RETREAT IN WEST

In the field of submarine activity Berlin further announces the sinking of the British transport steamer A-18. No indication of the tonnage of the vessel or loss of life, if any, is given.

Military operations of high importance are in progress on the Somme front where the British continue to push forward after the retiring Germans. General Blair's outpost at last accounts were but three miles from the German stronghold at Bapaume and there is apparently yet no indication as to how far the Germans intend to retreat before taking up their new line of defense.

Twenty or thirty conversions have taken place during the meetings. Rev. Wilson reports.

A Great Medicine.
That most successful of all remedies for women's ailments, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, owes its origin to a botanical recipe which came into the possession of Lydia E. Pinkham about fifty years ago.

This recipe had proved so effective in the practice of a skilled physician that Mrs. Pinkham procured the herbs and steeped and prepared them in true old-time fashion on her kitchen stove for her friends and neighbors who suffered from woman's ailments. The fame of the virtues of this wonderful medicine spread, until it is today recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.—Adv.

GIRLS! THICKEN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Try This! Your Hair Gets Wavy, Glossy and Abundant at Once.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair: soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderline.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderline now—all drug stores recommend it—Apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp.

Danderline is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderline and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.—Adv.

RETURNS FROM CUBA.
Rev. Kovach, Finding Island in Throes of Rebellion, Leaves For Home.

How Rev. Stephen Kovach, pastor of the St. Emory Magyar Roman Catholic Church on South Arch street, landed in Cuba with a party of others, expecting to spend his vacation there, and how instead he found himself in the midst of a rebellion, making it necessary for him to return to this country, is told in a Pittsburgh morning paper today.

Rev. Kovach and the others of the party, it is recorded, landed in Havana without knowing anything about the revolution which was on. They were very naturally surprised when a riot broke out on the streets, with several casualties. It was hard to discover what it was all about, Rev. Kovach says, because few in Havana can speak English.

According to Rev. Kovach the fighting was almost entirely guerrilla warfare, and the rebels were not organized. A riot was liable to break out in any place, and it was dangerous for the Americans even to stroll along the streets of Havana, as they might easily have been struck by stray bullets. Within three days the party returned to the United States. Rev. Kovach was impressed with the great friendliness of the natives for America.

Rev. Kovach arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday from the South, stopping over there before returning to Connelville.

Wetherell Baby Dies.
An infant son of Ray and Maude Sheets Wetherell, died this morning at 2 o'clock at the family residence in Pittsburgh. The body was brought to Connelville this afternoon and removed by Funeral Director Charles C. Mitchell to Hill Grove cemetery for interment. Deceased was the first child in the family and was a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wetherell, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Sheets of Connelville.

Contractor Works Outdoors In All Kinds of Weather

Exposure to the elements has no terror for Mr. Vinciguerra who keeps his system in condition to resist and throw off disease germs by the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"I have occasion to use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey many times during rainy and slushy weather, and consider it the best preventative from catching cold, or more serious ailments. I am a general contractor of mason and cement work, supervising my men in heavy down pours of rain to complete out door work. On these occasions, when one is cold and wet, the taking of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as directed is a preventative of disease."—Fatey Vinciguerra (Contractor) Rockaway Road, Jamaica, N. Y.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey
when taken in tablespoonful doses in equal amounts of water or milk before meals and on retiring invariably gives the system power to throw off and resist coughs, colds, grip, bronchitis and lung troubles. It keeps the body in good general condition because it is a predigestive liquid food which requires little labor of the digestive organs. Duffy's adds to the power of resistance and is of great assistance in destroying the cold breeding germs so prevalent at this season.

BEST FOR LIVER, BOWELS, STOMACH, HEADACHE, COLDS

They Live the Liver and Bowels and Straighten
You Right Up.

Don't be bilious, constipated, sick with breath bad and stomach sour.

Be sure! Take Cascarets and enjoy the pleasant, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced.
Wake up with your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right and feeling fine. Get rid of sick headache, biliousness, constipation, furred tongue, sour stomach, bad colds. Clear your skin, brighten your eyes, quicken your step and feel like doing a full day's work.
Cascarets are better than salts, pills or calomel because they don't shock the liver or gripe the bowels or cause inconvenience all the next day.
Mothers should give Cascarets, sick, bilious feverish children a whole Cas-caret anytime as they can not injure the tiny feet of tender bowels.—Adv.

EXECUTIVE NOT DICTATOR.

The charge that the Republicans in Congress have failed to give support to President Wilson in the steps he has found it advisable or necessary to take in the German situation, has no foundation whatever other than in the unreasoning partisanship of the Democrats who make the allegations.

During some of the crises, real or so-called which have arisen during President Wilson's incumbency have the Republican members of Congress hesitated, much less refused, to join with the majority in granting all and every right and power the President has requested to be conferred upon him. This support has been given by Republicans and Democrats alike upon the presumption that the emergency which was declared to exist would be promptly, fully and effectively met. History records the simple fact that they have not been so met, either in dealing with the Mexican situation or any other that has arisen.

In view of the repeated failures of the Administration to effectively use the power unhesitatingly granted by Congress at his request upon previous occasions, the Republicans naturally and properly hesitate to confer upon the President unlimited authority to act without the further advice and consent of Congress as may suit his will to do.

The members of Congress and citizens without regard to party have shown their loyalty to the government whenever there has been need. They will continue to stand behind the President in every emergency and upon all occasions when he shows it to be his disposition to stand for them as their chief executive, not over them as a supreme dictator.

SALVATION ARMY PROGRESS.

The progress made by the Salvation Army during the past fourteen months is worthy of more than passing notice.

The predecessor of the present officer in charge had the misfortune to allow himself to get out of harmony with other church agencies and many friends of the Army in the city, and that point was reached when it was considered advisable to abandon the station. Captain Phelps undertook the revival of interest in the Army in Conneltsville under very adverse circumstances and conditions, but he has succeeded in a remarkable degree. The Army has been restored to favor among our citizens generally and has regained their substantial and moral support which has enabled it to do a good work in the community during the winter. The need now is for a building which can be adapted to the several forms of the Army's activities. To secure such quarters will involve the expenditure of a considerable sum of money preceded by a well conducted campaign to raise it. Captain Phelps has shown himself equal to the task of recruiting the Army to its present strength and evidently will not be lacking in energy to carry the building scheme through successfully.

The Salvation Army performs so useful a function in Conneltsville there is little doubt but that the effort to provide it with suitable quarters will receive the form and measure of support necessary to accomplish the purpose.

TRENCHING ON STATE REVENUES.

Certain of the Democratic newspapers have been disposed to anber at the action of the Legislature in passing a concurrent resolution protesting against the "excess profits" tax and an increase in the inheritance tax rate.

This is but the natural and usual form of expression from this source whenever occasion arises to comment on some action in which Republicans may have had a part. The aim is cast, in this instance, largely because little or no thought has been given to the point involved in the protest. It was not, as the Democratic press has assumed, a partisan thrust at an administration measure, but it was an earnest objection, coming from that body having full right to make it, against a further encroachment by the federal government upon the state's sources of revenue.

Under the Constitution the federal government has the power "to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises," and it is provided that "no state shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts, laid by any state on imports, shall be for the use of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of Congress."

There is no well informed student of the Constitution, Democrat or Republican alike, who does not believe that it was the intention of the framers of this charter of our liberties that duties on imports were to provide the chief sources of revenue for the federal government, while to the states was reserved the right to exercise the taxing power over property, income, inheritance, etc., so far as practicable within their jurisdiction. Since a New Freedom Democracy has gained the ascendancy in the national government, the long respected interpreta-

WHY WE WOULD GO TO WAR WITH GERMANY

Wm. C. Bullitt, in Philadelphia Ledger PART II.

With liberals in control of Germany a peace without victory is to be sought by the United States. With conservatives in control of Germany there can be no peace until victory. They will not march out of France and Belgium until they are driven out. If they should win either peace or victory for Germany they would at once form the international plunderbund with Russia and Japan which would mean death for France and England and humiliation for the United States. We are entering a war against that blood-red future.

No matter what the cost in blood and wealth, we cannot allow the conservatives to lead the German people to either peace or victory. And the cost to us will not be light. Germany is far from defeat. The spring offensive of England and France may dent but it will not smash the German lines. Meanwhile the submarines will be cutting closer and closer to England's jugular vein. They will not shy England, but there will be many hours of chill and fear during the next few months. And Germany will not stop fighting because her old men are dying and her children are being starved for want of food. Little food can save a nation long if it is seized with much love of country. If the conservatives remain in control of Germany there will be an offensive next autumn and another in the spring of 1918. American youths are likely to be in that attack.

The hope that peace may come before that time rests on but one thing—the chance that the liberals will again set their feet on the head of the conservative caste. The liberals in their hearts have not applauded the assumption of sinking without waiting. Their representatives in the Reichstag have not been convicted. Their chief organs of expression, the Frankfurter Zeitung, the Berliner Tageblatt and the Vorwarts, have damned the step with as faint praise as the censor would permit them to bestow. And if the United States should back the Allies need to carry on the war for another year, the liberals will be able to turn upon their masters of today with the cry, "You promised us victory and you have given us starvation and a million graves!" Peace would have been made in six months by President Wilson. And he would have made a peace which would have given us security from Russian attack and friendship with the three great democracies of the world. That is what we wanted. That is what you stole from us. Out upon you!

If the German liberals should rise to this cry and should give the government firmly in their hands that they could not be shaken loose by the mere shrug of a nervous in the Kaiser's head, then and then only could the United States abandon the war. It is about to enter without complete victory. The German people, and they alone, can crush the Prussian military caste. Until they have crushed it we cannot give them peace. Our war is a war for the soul of Germany. It is a war to align Germany with England, France and ourselves against Russia and Japan. And, as the preacher held it in Ecclesiastes, "There is no discharge in that war."

to the Constitution have ceased to inspire respect or reverence in other matters as well as that of raising revenue. As a consequence there has been an increasing tendency on the part of Congress to ignore imports and to trench upon the state's sources of revenue.

To protect Pennsylvania from this unlawful invasion of its taxing powers and rights was the purpose of the protest. It will, of course, go unheeded because the national deficit makers need the money.

In the interests of a "fair and impartial" investigation Governor Brumbaugh is perfectly willing to act as judge, jury and prosecuting attorney.

The order of onions has replaced that of asparagus as a sign of prosperity.

If the incoming Congress had as large a Democratic majority as the present would President Wilson be as anxious as he now is to avoid an extra session?

President Wilson does not take Congress so closely into his confidence when he undertakes his mind to that body but that he can discharge himself from the embrace without great effort.

"Armed neutrality" has a sound and meaning not unlike "didn't know it was loaded."

With potatoes selling at 75 cents a bushel in England and at $1.00 a bushel in the United States the difference between being at war and "on the verge" becomes more noticeable.

Fair exchange continues to be the explosive center of Fayette county.

It seems to be easier to recruit soldiers for the Army of the Lord than for the Army of Uncle Sam in Conneltsville.

Exorbitant profits are something that is being eliminated from public service corporations' vocabulary. A corporation is entitled to a fair return upon its investment, but exclusive privilege does not carry with it the right to gouge a dependent public.

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS
President American Society for Thrift to New York by way of the ferry boat. The fare was not large, but he saved enough in two years to buy two boats of his own. In the meantime his wife had gone into the hotel business and in the next few years they accumulated $18,000 between them, with which Commodore Vanderbilt bought the controlling interest in a steamboat. He taught his son to be just as thrifty. Though he himself was enormously wealthy, he insisted that his son work, and work he did, on a farm. Thus was founded one of the great American fortunes.

A believer in thrift who was a benefactor to his descendants as far as money is concerned, at least, was Commodore Vanderbilt. When he was 16 years old he was taking passengers from Staten Island.

"No boy ever became great as a man," said John Wanamaker, "who did not in his youth learn to save money. Nine-tenths of getting ahead consists of laying something aside." James J. Hill conveyed the same idea when he said, "If you want to know whether you are going to succeed the test is easy. Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will surely lose. You may not think it, but you will lose as sure as you live." These men knew what they were talking about. They spoke from experience. Each began to save when he was earning a mere pittance. They did not make the mistake of waiting until they earned "more." Marshall Field, for instance, started out as a clerk in a dry-goods store in a little village at $2.50 a week. Our idea is that a person could not live on $2.50 a week even in a small town in those early days, to say nothing of saving money. He did, and he saved money until he had enough to pay his fare to Chicago and to live on until he got another job in a dry-goods store—which he afterwards owned and which became the largest in the world.

Twenty-fifth Anniversary to be Ob-

J. L. Pangle to be Temporary Secretary of Y. M. C. A.; Other Notes.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTTSDALE, Feb. 27.—Beginning of Wednesday the following warnings drawn up by Burgess W. N. Porter will go into effect in the borough and will be rigidly enforced by the local police:

"No one shall be allowed to park an automobile or other wheeled vehicle of any kind or hitch a horse, mule or bovine to any pole of any kind or allow them to stand within 25 feet of any fire plug or public hydrant on any street or alley under penalty of the law. Any owner of automobile or wheeled vehicle of any kind or owner of horse or mule, failing to immediately give right of way or impede in any manner, the fire trucks or fire department while on their way to a fire or in the discharge of their duties will be summarily dealt with according to law."

It was thought necessary to make a move of this kind on account of the parking of automobiles and the hitching of horses in telephone poles too near fire plugs, and because people fail to clear the streets and give the room to the fire apparatus going to fires and at fires.

Eureka Grange Banquet.
The twenty-fifth anniversary of Eureka Grange No. 1011 will be observed on Saturday, March 3, in the L. O. O. F. hall. The hall will be opened at 10 o'clock for members and their families who will be admitted on tickets which can be secured at the door. The banquet will be served at 12 o'clock and the hall will be open to the public at 1 o'clock. A program has been arranged for the afternoon beginning at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. H. G.
Tegarden of Piquette, lecturer of Pennsylvania State Grange, and Rev. C. W. Verbeek, pastor of the Seaside Methodist Episcopal Church, will make addresses. Other features of the program will be music and recitations. This is one of the biggest days in the year for the grange.

Pittsburgh Pastor Here.
Rev. G. U. Hays of Pittsburgh had charge of the services at the Lutheran church on Sunday in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Stough.

Honor Mrs. Stoner.
Twenty friends gave Mrs. Lucy Stoner a surprise party at her home on Friday evening in honor of her 67th birthday. A pleasant evening was spent and refreshments served.

Temporary Secretary.
J. L. Pangle has been chosen by the board of the Y. M. C. A. to take the place of secretary until the first of March. Just what will be done at this time is not known.

MY REMEDY FOR COLDS

The Mother of These Children Praises
Father John's Medicine

In a recent letter the mother of these children said: "I have taken Father John's Medicine for colds in my throat with excellent results. Also gave Father John's Medicine to my four weeks old baby who was relieved of the cold in a few days. It is my family remedy." (Signed) Mrs. Lottie Dunlap, 331 So. Highland St., Du Bois, Pa.

For over 60 years Father John's Medicine has been successfully treating colds and coughs and building new fresh and strength, without using alcohol or dangerous drugs in any form.
Get some for your cold. Start taking it

Mother Praises Remedy That Relieved Her Baby

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin
Is a Dependable Family Medicine.

Nearly all the sickness incident to a baby's life is due to constipation, or inaction of the bowels. At the first indication of irregularity in this important function, relief should be afforded promptly. A mild laxative should be administered to gently carry off the congested waste and leave the stomach and bowels free to perform their allotted tasks.

Of the various remedies recommended to relieve constipation, the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, as prescribed by Dr. W. B.
Caldwell and sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is the most effective. It contains no opiate or narcotic drug, is pleasant to the taste, mild and gentle in action, and quickly brings the desired relief in an easy, natural manner.

Mrs. C. J. Douglas, Mason, Ill., writes that she cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin as a dependable family laxative. Little Mary Eva had been badly constipated until they tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which brought the first natural

relief the child had had in two weeks.
Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold in drug stores every where and costs only fifty cents a bottle. To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure to ask for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr.
Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455
Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

HEARING RESUMED

Lake Cargo Case Again Before Interstate Commerce Commission.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Another hearing in the Lake Cargo Case is now in progress before the Interstate Commerce Commission which it is intended will close all the testimony to be taken in the Western coal rate cases.
In addition to the exhibits and testimony being filed by the carriers to combat the claims of the shippers, Joan Paul Muller, the expert rate accountant, who was a witness in behalf of the Connellsville Coal Tariff Association when hearings were had on the intervening petition of that organization last summer, introduced his exhibits and gave testimony showing the necessity for giving the Connellsville coke region the Pittsburgh district rate on lake cargo coal.
The Connellsville Coal Tariff Association is being represented at the hearing by its attorney, C. Andrade, Jr., of New York.

A WORD TO THE WISE

You all know there exists a great shortage in the paper supply.
Newspapers have suspended publication; wrapping paper has gone up from 3c to 10c the pound. Wall Paper has gone up in proportion; and is very hard to get found the factories at any price.
Whether this is through manipulation or an actual shortage of raw stock, I cannot say, but the conditions are an actual fact, and all wall paper stores are facing this shortage. Last July I saw this condition coming, and through advice of people who knew the inside facts, I contracted in advance for 75,000 rolls of paper at a very slight advance over last year's prices. Now, I could be a hog, and hold tight for the four increases in price that have taken place since last July, but I do not intend to do so. I could sell the entire order back to the factory at a profit of $1,000.00. Instead, I am offering this paper to you at a very reasonable profit, believing that my customers are entitled to it, and trusting you may appreciate it in the future. My prices are less than other dealers are paying for their paper. I have refused to enter any combination to raise the price. You will get more than a square deal by giving me your patronage. Look over my line. I can sell you papers for kitchen, bedrooms &c. at 6c the bolt; beautiful papers for bedrooms and general living rooms at 7c, 7 1/2c and 10c the bolt.
Papers for your very best rooms at 10c, 12 1/2c, and 20c the bolt. Plain color genuine oatmeal papers at 15c the bolt.
Everything in Wall Paper from 5c to $2.50 the bolt.
Over 400 patterns, over 75,000 rolls to select from.

ROBINSON THEATRE.

"THE LAST SENTENCE"—A pictorialization of Maxwell Gray's story of that little genuine melodrama of the sort one need not feel ashamed to admit that he likes. It is so well directed by Ben Turbett and has for its leads Miriam Nesbitt and Marc MacDermott. The play will particularly appeal to women because it is the women who do the things you remember best in the play. They are the "Mark Taggers" who come out strong under difficulties. There are plenty of good situations where contrast in strength and weakness keep the subject continuously engrossing. The whole picture just bubbles over with unusual incidents and there is a real suspense cleverly concealed. All through a long trial where a young girl is tried for the murder of her infant, "Pearl of the Army" No. 11, featuring Pearl White. "The Girl Reporter's Secret," an up to date drama featuring Irene Hunt. It is a clever story of a newspaper woman's triumph. Animated Weekly No. 57. Tomorrow Mary MacLaren in the Bluebird drama, "The Mysterious Mrs. M." In this production the hero is informed by a fortune teller that he will die upon a certain date, the secretess at the same time saying that she, too, will pass away within a week. When the news comes that the woman has died and thus fulfilled a part of her prediction, the young man "sees his finish." Right at this time a beautiful girl enters his life and because he feels it would be unjust for a doomed man to make loving advances, the complications multiply until the interesting story comes to a "surprise" ending that is too good to disclose in advance.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

"DIVORCE AND THE DAUGHTER"—A five reel Gold Rooster drama featuring the well known actress, Florence Labadie. It is an entertaining and interesting drama. Kiefer's six place orchestra will also play here today. Also a two-reel comedy will be shown. Tomorrow June Caprice will be featured in the William Fox photoplay, "A Modern Cinderella." It is a dainty and sugary conception mixed with equal parts of romance and fashion display and liberally sprinkled with rather school girlish comedy. The plot resembles the old fairy tale of Cinderella, only in that it shows us a little girl whose mother and sister are cruel enough to insist that little girls should wear their hair down their back and be seen and not heard. Infuriated by this injustice she induces her sister's fiancée to flirt with her with the alleged purpose of making sister jealous, but of course the pretense ends in reality, and the scene fades out with a blissful tableau between little sister and the man who is big sister's beau no longer. Do not miss this comedy drama. Thursday, Charlotte Walker will be featured in the five reel drama, "Pardners." Also "Patricia" No. 5.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"GREAT EXPECTATIONS"—Starring Jack Pickford and Louisa Ruff, who created such a tremendous success in the Famous Players' adaptation of both "Pip" and the celebrated novel, "Seventeen," is a great attraction today. In the support of the youthful stars are assembled Frank Losee, Maudie Harris, Grace Ranton, Herbert Prior, and W. W. Black. The story of "Great Expectations," details the thrilling adventures of "Pip," a young orphan who is brought up in the home of his brother-in-law, a blacksmith. He encounters an escaped criminal, Provis, while trying to elude his sister's wrath, and is forced to obtain food and a file to assist the criminal in furthering his escape. Provis is captured and the boy is in terror until the convict shields him with a file. Because he is a red-headed looking chap he is chosen by Mr. Jaggers, a lawyer, to become a companion of little Estella, the adopted daughter of a Miss Havisham. There is much mystery and not a little that is terrifying about Miss Havisham who sits alone in the dark room clad in an old wedding dress. "Pip's" adventures and his love affairs and his mysterious legacy are all great factors in this story. Tomorrow Wilfred Lucas will be seen in "Jim Bludso," a five part Triangle drama. War Brides, the celebrated drama, starring Maximova, will be presented three days in March. The dates will be announced later.

PATRONS' DAY AT LAYTON

Parents Enjoy a Well Arranged Program and Inspect Work.

After an all morning shower many visitors attended the afternoon session of school at Layton Friday, February 23, which was observed throughout Fayette county as Patrons' Day. From 2 to 2:20 o'clock a social period was conducted, during which time much of the work of the pupils was inspected.

The following literary program was ably rendered in keeping with Washington's birthday and events of February. Mrs. Louis Hunker assisted at the organ. Opening song, "Washington," by the school; "Abraham Lincoln's Boyhood," Lida Willoy; "Eve's Life of Washington," Ruth Fauspel; "Harriet Wiley, Mary Bows Raley, Dwight Raley, Lucille Kline; song, "Story of the Baldpate," room one; recitation, Lila Brewer; song, "Acropolis," by chorus; recitation, "A Snow Man," Vanessa Hamilton; essay, "Life of Washington," Toley Stauffer; periodical, Melva Cutler; song, "Boys of U. S. A.," room one; "Story of St. Valentine," Agnes Ryan; recitation, "A Boyless Town," Ruberta Brullier; "Notes from P. H. S. Red and Black of 1916," Olive Hamilton; recitation, Adelaide Miller; recitation, "A History Lesson," Margaret Cutler; song, "America, For Me," by chorus; recitation, "A Sleepy Little School," Mary Belle Miller; "School Personals," Marion Fauspel; recitation, "Gossip Town," Lucy Baldwin; "Search Light," Olive Willey.

Donald Hamilton acted as president and Mary Belle Miller secretary of the literary association. Superintendent James Robinson paid a welcome visit to the school Thursday.

MANY AUTO TAGS

Receipts for Motor Vehicle Licenses Indicate New Records.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25.—Automobile license receipts at the State Highway Department total more than one and three-quarter million dollars. The receipts are more than $500,000 ahead of the corresponding date in 1916. They are within $600,000 of the entire receipts for 1916. All indications point to the total receipts for 1917 reaching the $3,000,000 mark. Receipts at the close of business for the week were $1,754,387, against $1,246,000 on the corresponding date last year. Total receipts for 1916 were $2,325,057.50, hundreds of thousands of dollars ahead of all previous records. The highest license number issued in 1916 was 231,887.

MAY MAKE FIRST AID COMPULSORY

BRI to Make All Mining Companies Establish Corps Trained in Rescue Work.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—While many coal operators in Pennsylvania have voluntarily put first aid corps in their mines, and in many others the men themselves have volunteered for this work, rescue and first aid crews will be compulsory if a bill presented in the House by Representative Powell of Luzerne becomes a law. A fine of $50 to $250 is provided for failure to comply.

The Powell bill provides a first aid crew for every 50 persons employed inside the mine. In addition, in mines where explosive gas is found in sufficient quantity to be detected with an approved safety lamp, a rescue corps must be provided for every 50 men inside. Mines employing less than 50 men will provide a first aid corps on request of the mine inspector. Each crew shall consist of five strong and intelligent persons, recruited from volunteers among the employees, and shall be properly trained. All necessary apparatus shall be maintained by the mine superintendent. A company operating two or more mines may establish central station, connected by telephone or telegraph with all mines, which must not be further away than five miles. Not less than six oxygen helmets shall be maintained at such station, with oxygen tanks attached.

Justifiable Deception.

The talk had gone back and fro, and the youthful Socialist had been announcing that no man ought to get his living by cheating, and we all listened to him and agreed that it was dreadful when men and women did not tell the truth, but tried to make their living by deceiving people. Millionaires, landowners, financiers, we scorned all of them who cheat the public.

"No one should make a living by deception," said the young man impressively.

Then a quiet voice from a woman came from the corner of the sofa, "What about the conjurer?"—Exchange.

Soothes Croupy Children to Sleep KREW-PINA

A Healing, Comfortable Salve

If any one of your children suffers from a bad cough or cold just apply Krew-Pina to the chest and throat at bedtime and the trouble will disappear overnight. It is preferable to all other medicines for many ailments, the most frequent and troublesome of which are croup, whooping cough, asthma, tonsillitis, and bronchitis. Rub some Krew-Pina where the trouble lies and you will have quick and permanent relief.

Krew-Pina is a medicinal salve and is used externally only. It contains no harmful ingredients and will not blister. For this reason it is superior also for all kinds of muscular affections such as sprains, bruises, contusions, chilblains, or rheumatism. Be sure to add Krew-Pina to your family medicine chest. It is an almost sure remedy of great curative power. It costs only 50c per jar and is guaranteed absolutely satisfactory. If you don't find it as represented, return the unused portion of the jar and get your money back. Ask your druggist.

HEART of the SUNSET BY REX BEACH

Author of "The Spoilers," "The Iron Trail,"
"The Silver Horde," Etc.

All that afternoon the cowboys labored, and toward sundown the depleted herd was driven to the water. Then through the cool twilight came the drive to the next pasture, and here the patience of the cowboys was taxed to the utmost for the stronger members of the herd forged ahead the weaker, worried, fidgety members fell behind. But now these swarthy, devil riders were as gentle as women, they urged the tiny youngsters onward with harmless switches or with pinless blows from loose coiled lariat; they picked them up in their arms and rode with them.

Once through the gate and into the side the restraining pasture fence the herd was allowed to settle down. Then began a patient search by outraged mothers, a series of mournful quarts that were destined to continue far into the night; endless nosings and sniffings and caressings, which would keep up until each cow had found her own, until each calf was butting its head against maternal ribs and gazing that consolation which it craved.

A new moon was swinging in the sky as Alaire and Dave rode back toward Las Palmas. Now or then Alaire Austin came to feel that this man loved her, she never knew. Certainly she knew tonight and strange to say the knowledge did not disturb her. Alaire had been repelled by Luis Longo's evident love for her but a similar emotion in this man's breast had quite the opposite effect. She was eager for friendship, hungry for affection, starved for that worship which every woman lives upon, craving a wholesome confidence in her own strength of character, and complete faith in Luis's sense of honor, she was neither alarmed nor offended.

For the first time in years she allowed her intimate thoughts free expression and spoke of her hopes her interests and her efforts; under the spell of the moonlight, she even confided something about those dreams that kept her company and robbed her world of its brightness. Dave Longo listened to her with a patient and of unselfishness and the glimpse he gained of it was delightful. Supper was waiting when they arrived at Las Palmas and Dolores announced that "Young Ed" had telephoned from the Lewis ranch that he would not be home. Yielding to a sudden impulse, Alaire said to her companion:

"You must dine with me, Dolores will show you to a room. I will be ready in half an hour."

The Austin ranchhouse offered a contrast to the majority of Texas country houses. Not for many years had Dave Law been a guest and such surroundings, and he began to feel more and more at home. With growing discomfort he realized that the mistress of this residence was the richest woman in all this part of Texas, and that he was little better than a tramp. Alaire knew how to be a gracious and winning hostess of course she did not appear to notice her guest's embarrassment. She had never welcomed the thought that this man cared for her, and yet had she deliberately planned to dampen his feeling, she could hardly have succeeded better than by showing him the vast disparity in their lives and situations. Dave was dumfounded, he felt very poor and ridiculous. Alaire was no longer the woman he had ridden with through the solitudes, her very friendliness seemed to be a condescension.

He did not linger long after they had dined for he wished to be alone, where he could reach an understanding with himself. On the steps he waited just a moment for Alaire to mention, if she chose that subject which had been still left open on the night before, reading his thought, she said:

"You are expecting me to say something about Pandito Sanchez."

"Yes."

"I have thought it over; in fact, I have been thinking about it all day, but even yet I don't know what to tell you. As for its effect upon myself—you know I care very little what people say or think."

"I'm Sorry I Killed the Fellow."

"I'm sorry I killed the fellow—I shouldn't have done it, but—on—see things differently out in the rough and here in the settled country. I can't help but feel that his conduct, under the circumstances, called for what he got. He wasn't a good man in spite of what Jose says, Ante confessed to me that they were planning all sorts of devilry together."

"That is hardly an excuse. Alaire smiled faintly."

"Oh I know," Dave agreed. "Don't weaken on my account."

"Not I'm not thinking of the consequences to you or to me. You are the kind of man who can protect himself, I'm sure, your very ability in that direction frightens me a little on Jose's account. But—the slight and lifted her shoulders in a shrug—perhaps time will decide this question for us."

Dave laughed with some relief. "I think you've worried yourself enough over it now," he said. "Splitting hairs as to what's right and what's wrong, when it doesn't matter much, in either case. Suppose you continue to think it over at your leisure."

"Perhaps I'd better. And now—"

Alaire extended her hand—"won't you and Montrose come to see me once in a while? I'm very lonesome."

"We'd love to," Dave declared. He had it on his lips to say more but at that moment an eager whining and an impatient rattling of a bridge bit came from the driveway and he smiled.

"There's her acceptance now."

"Oh, no! She merely heard your voice the little creature."

Alaire watched her guest until he had disappeared into the shadows, then she heard him talking to the mare. Benito's words at the rodeo occurred to her, and she wondered if this Ranger might not also have a way with women.

The house was very still and empty when she re-entered it.

CHAPTER XII

The Guzman Incident. Ricardo Guzman did not return from Romero. The man had disappeared. It seemed completely and mysteriously. At first the facts appeared plain. A citizen of the United States had been "killed" across the border and done to death by Mexican soldiers—for it soon became evident that Ricardo was dead. The outrage was a census well known as no self-respecting people could ignore, so that the popular verdict. The ominous mailed serpent which lay along the Rio Grande stirred itself.

Of course the people of Texas were infuriated that the long delayed hour had struck, accordingly when the state department manifested its willingness to allow Don Ricardo ample time in which to come to life in preference to putting a further strain upon international relations they were both surprised and enraged. Telegraph wires began to buzz, the governor of the state sent a succinct message to the national capital, ordering a dispatch a company of Rangers after Guzman's body, just to prove that he was indeed dead, and that the Mexican authorities were lying when they professed ignorance of the fact.

This offer not only caught the popular fancy north of the Rio Grande but it likewise had an effect on the other side of the river for on the very next day General Luis Longo set out for Romero to investigate personally the charges of disappearance.

Now, throughout all this public clamor truth as usual, lay hidden at the bottom of it all and few even of Ricardo's closest friends suspected the real reason for his murder.

Jonesville, of course could think of little else than this outrage and Blaise Jones as blurted his leading citizen was loudest in his criticism of the government's policy. Blaise's conception of diplomacy was peculiar. "If Pandito didn't talk straight, that confounded ought to be a gun barrel over the old ruffian's head and telephoned for a couple hundred battle-axes. We Americans are cursed with notions of brotherly love and universal peace. Bah! We're bound to have war, Dave, some day or other."

Dave nodded his agreement. "Yes, but—everybody has the wrong idea of this Guzman killing. The federal officers in Romero didn't frame it up."

"Not who did?"

"And Lewis?"

Jones started. "What makes you think that?"

"Listen! I was afraid to let Urrina come to trial. Ricardo's dead and the other witness is gone. Now draw your own conclusions."

Jones was amazed. "Say, Dave," he cried, "that means your case has blown up on?"

"Absolutely. Lewis has been selling wet stock to the federalists, and he probably arranged with some of them to murder Ricardo."

"Blaise cursed eloquently. 'I'd like to hang it onto that, I'd sure clean house down his way if I was positive.'"

"I sent a man over to Romero," Dave explained further. "He tells me Ricardo is dead, all right. There's a new grave in the little cemetery above the town, but there hasn't been a death in Romero lately." The speaker watched his friend closely. "If we had Ricardo's body on this side it would put an end to all the fuss, and perhaps force Colonel Blanco to make known the real facts. It might even mean a case against Tad Lewis."

"What if you say we go over there and get Ricardo?"

Dave smiled. "That's what I've been leading up to. Will you take a chance?"

"Yes."

"I knew you would. All we need is a pair of Mexicans to—do the work. I liked Ricardo. I owe him something."

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFIES AND DARKENS HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! It Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.

You can turn gray faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 60-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients are sold annually says a well-known druggist here because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired unattractive folks aren't wanted around so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease—Adv.

"Suppose we're caught?"

"In that case we'll have to run for it—and I presume I'll be discharged from the Ranger service."

"I ain't very good at running—not from Mexicans. Blaise's eyes were bright and hard at the thought. It more a possible that if they discovered us we can start a nice little war of our own."

That evening Dave managed to get his Ranger captain by long distance telephone and for some time the two talked guardedly. When Dave rang off they had come to a thorough understanding.

It had been an easy matter for Jose Sanchez to secure a leave of absence from Benito. But Alaire knew nothing whatever about the matter until Jose himself asked permission to see her on a matter of importance.

The man had ridden hard most of the previous night and his excitement was patent. Even before he spoke Alaire realized that Pandito's fate was known to him and she decided swiftly that there must be no further concealment.

"Senora! A terrible thing! Jose burst forth. "It is strange, unbelievable! My head aches—"

Alaire quivered him saying in Spanish: "Calm yourself Jose and tell me everything from the beginning."

"But how can I be calm? Pandito is completely dead. But—do you know?"

Alaire nodded. "I suspected."

Jose's dark eyes blazed. He beat for ward eagerly. "What did you suspect, and why? Tell me all."

It was with a nervous apprehensive flutter in her breast that Alaire related the crisis had come. Heretofore she had blamed Luis but now oddly enough she found herself interested in defending him. As calmly as she could she related all that had led up to the tragedy while Jose listened with eyes wide and mouth open.

"You see I had no suspicion of the truth," she concluded. "It was a terrible thing and Mr. Law regrets it deeply. He would have made a report to the authorities only—he feared it might embarrass me."

Jose was born with rage yet placidly a prey to indecision, he rolled his eyes and cursed under his breath. "These Rangers!" he muttered. "That is the kind of men they are. They murder honest people!"

"This was not a murder," Alaire cried sharply. "Pandito was aiding a felon to escape. The courts will not punish Mr. Law."

"Bah! Who cares for the courts? This man is a gringo and these are gringo laws. But I am a Mexican, and Pandito was my cousin. We shall see."

"Don't be rash, Jose," she exclaimed warningly.

Jose continued to glow. Then turning away, he said, without meeting his employer's eyes. "I would like to draw my money."

"Very well. I am sorry to have you leave Las Palmas for I have regarded you as one of my guests." Jose's face remained stony. "What do you intend to do? Where are you going?"

The fellow struggled. "Quien sabe! Perhaps I shall go to my General Longo."

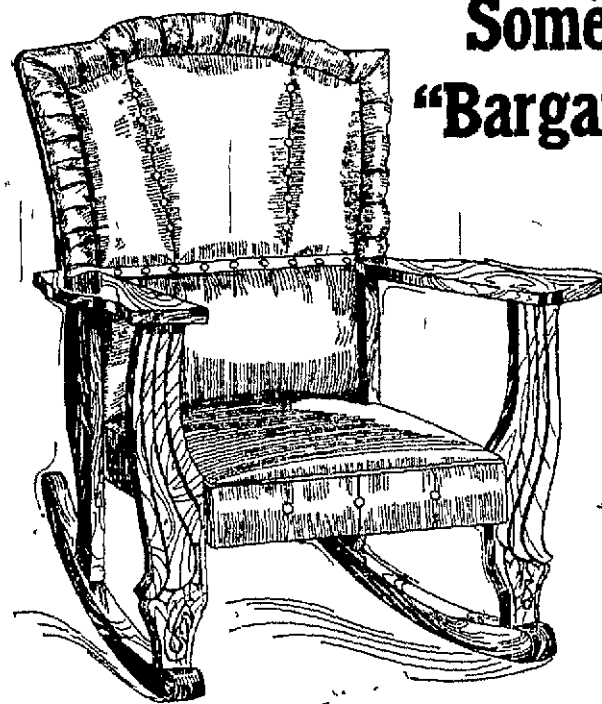

Alaire smiled faintly. "You will be shot," she told him. "Those soldiers have little to eat and no money at all."

But Jose's bright eyes remained hostile and his expression baffling. It was plain to Alaire that her explanation of his cousin's death had carried not the slightest conviction and she even began to fear that her part in the affair had caused him to look upon her as an accessory. Nevertheless, when she paid him his wages she gave him a good horse which Jose accepted with thanks but without gratitude. As Alaire watched him ride away with never a backward glance she decided that she must lose no time in applying the Ranger of this new condition of affairs.

She drove her automobile to Jonesville that afternoon more worried than she cared to admit. Law was nowhere in town and so in spite of her reluctance, Alaire was forced to look for him at the Jones home. As she had never called upon Paloma, and had made it almost impossible for the girl to visit Las Palmas, the meeting of the two women was somewhat formal. But no one could long remain stiff or constrained with Paloma Jones, the girl had a directness of manner and an honest friendly smile that simply would not be denied. Her delight that Alaire had come to see her pleased and shamed the older woman who hesitatingly confessed the object of her visit.

"Oh, I thought you were calling on me," Paloma pouted her pretty lips. "Dave isn't here. He and father have gone away."

It needed no close observation to detect the concern in Paloma's eyes. Alaire told her story quickly. "Mr. Law must be worried right away," she added. "for the man is capable of any thing."

Paloma nodded. "Dave told me how he had killed Pandito—She hesitated and then cried impulsively: "Miss Austin I'm going to confess something—I've got to tell somebody or I'll burst. I was walking the floor when you came. Well dad and Dave have completely lost their wits. They have gone across the river—to get Ricardo Guzman's body."

"What! Alaire stared at the girl unconprehendingly. "My dear girl aren't you dreaming?"

Too Many Boys Leave the Farm In Fayette, County Agent Says

Considerable attention to live stock featured the past year in the work of the Fayette county farm bureau, according to the annual report of Farm Agent P. E. Dougherty, just given out. Six separate projects for the cause of more and better live stock for Fayette were carried out by the bureau, in co-operation with the live stock committee. A livestock automobile tour was followed by the boys and girls stock judging contest at the Dawson fair. As an effort to still further increase interest among the boys and girls in live stock a pig feeding contest was also conducted, closing at the county fair. The organization of a cow testing association, with 29 dairymen, owning 410 cows, as members, was one of the most important accomplishments of the year. Two milk clubs, in operation the first four months of the year, led to the formation of the cow testing association. A sheep clipping and dipping demonstration was another achievement of the bureau, and at the present time a sheep survey is being conducted in order to ascertain the number of sheep in Fayette county and also to study general conditions in sheep raising.

Not alone in the live stock campaign, but in many other ways, did the farm bureau render valuable service to the cause of agriculture in Fayette. The comprehensive report of Mr. Dougherty, covering every phase of farm work which came to the attention of the bureau from January 1, to December 1, 1916, cites a large number of demonstrations and tests made to correct various farm evils.

During the performance of his duties during the year, Mr. Dougherty traveled 3,258 miles by automobile and 3,955 miles by rail, according to the report. Visits made to farms in the county totaled 637 and office calls 498. There were 111 meetings held under the auspices of the Fayette bureau and Mr. Dougherty participated in 28 other meetings.

One of the most interesting activities was the campaign against oat smut, which, it is estimated, saved Fayette farmers a total of $5,097. In regard to the campaign the report says:

"Twenty meetings were held in different communities with a total attendance of 677 persons relative to the oat smut condition, explaining at each meeting the loss which was insured in the county during the past year and the money necessary to eradicate this loss."

"During the course of the 20 meetings 255 plants of formalin was purchased by farmers and distributed in the county as the first step to eradicate the oat smut. During the summer of 1916, 50 fields of oats which were treated with formalin and 50 fields of oats which were sowed with untreated seed, were visited and the percentage determined as to smutted and unsputted heads. In most cases where the formalin was used properly there were no smut noticed, while in fields of oats where untreated seed was sown on the average of 13% was found smutted, while in some cases the percentage ran as high as 30%."

"Later in the season cards asking for information relative to the value derived from the formalin was sent to the different farmers who purchased the formalin. Fifty-three users reported on oats smut. Each user reported on an average of 12 acres sown with treated seed."

"Although the fruit business in Fayette county is not one of the most important agricultural projects, it was deemed advisable to conduct pruning and spraying demonstrations in different sections of the county."

A blue grass demonstration was also conducted, but very little data of importance has yet been obtained from the work, as it was only started in the spring of 1916.

Corn variety tests were also conducted as were corn growing contests. The reason for the organization of the corn clubs is given by Mr. Dougherty in the following words:

"One of the most important features confronting agriculture in Fayette county is the scarcity of farm labor and the fact that at least 85% of the boys born and reared on farms are leaving the farm, securing positions at the coke works when from 13 to 20 years of age. The Farm Bureau carefully considered the club work proposition and finally decided after receiving the co-operation of the Fayette county schools, to conduct a corn growing contest among the boys and girls. During the late winter of 1916 the corn club proposition was properly brought before the boys and girls in the county, through the Farm Bureau, and the public schools. One hundred twenty-four boys and girls signed entry blanks to join this contest, but due to the exceptionally poor season for corn in that the spring was very wet and frost rather late, about 50 of the contestants dropped the club work, but 74 have cultivated their acre in good shape and are looking forward to the close-up of the contest."

A phosphoric acid demonstration, for restoring "killed" soil, proved successful. Mr. Dougherty's report is divided into two parts, the first, a narrative report, the second a summary report. It is required to be very specific, and Mr. Dougherty accounts for practically every day, telling just how it was spent. Days he spent in his office at Uniontown numbered 49 and days on duty 280. Duplicates of the report were presented to the Pennsylvania State College and to the United States Department of Agriculture some time ago.

Corns Peel Right Off With "Gets-It"

2 Drops, and the Corn is a "Goner!"

When you've got to walk on the sides of your shoes to get away from those corn-pains, there's only one common-sense thing to do.

There's no other corn-remover in the world that acts like "Gets-It." No new discovery has been made in corn-removers since "Gets-It" was born. Don't forget that fact. "Gets-It" does away forever with the use of knives that irritate, bandages that make a bundle of your toe, plaster that half do the work, knives and saws that draw blood. Use "Gets-It"—no more digging or cutting.

"Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 50c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Connellsville and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by A. A. Clarke, Lehigh Valley Drug Co., Connellsville Pharmacy, Fred H. Harmoning.

Use "Gets-It" Your Corns Won't Swell in Water. Besides, They'll Shrink, Loosen and Peel Off!

Put 2 or 3 drops of "Gets-It" on the corn right away. Rub it in and in a few minutes it will disappear. The corn will begin to shrink from that instant—then it loosens and falls right off.

Our Entire Dress Goods Section Will Be Devoted to This Interesting Display

This collection represents the largest and most complete display of MADE-IN-AMERICA Wash Fabrics this store or any other store in Connellsville has ever attempted. The entire assemblage is featured by the bright colors in vogue for spring, and in addition to plain and fancy voiles includes a great variety of smart sport fabrics in the newest floral, striped and oriental printings.

25c to 50c Yard

We are happy to announce that prices are no higher than they were one year ago, but this display could not be duplicated today at the figures we are able to quote.

Women with Spring sewing to do will find our moderate pricing an additional attraction—none lower than 25c—none higher than 50c a yard.

We submit just a few of the items to be found on display.

BELMAR VOILE, 38 in. wide, bare and stripes in Japanese colorings, 25c and 30c a yard.
